Please join the Bailliage of Greater Washington, DC, as we experience an extraordinary dining opportunity. Chef Pepe Moncayo, Executive Chef/Owner of Cranes, and his wife, Aishah, met when Chef was living and working in Singapore, and they have wanted to bring the cuisine of that island nation to our nation's capital.

While Cranes is best known for its Spanish-Japanese fusion dishes, on May 15th, they are creating a fine dining Singaporean menu exclusively for us. We begin with a Champagne reception with passed hors d'oeuvres before being seated for a series of sumptuous courses that reflect the cultural and culinary diversity of Singapore, melding influences from China, India, and the Malay Archipelago into something unique and wonderful.

This Chaîne dinner is a passion project for Chef Moncayo, and we are the beneficiaries. You won't find a fine dining experience like this anywhere else Washington as they take us on a culinary journey halfway around the world to a place dear to their hearts, Singapore.
